Scripture

Luke 10: 25-37

There was a scholar of the law who stood up to test Jesus and said, "Teacher, what must I do to inherit eternal life?"

Jesus said to him, "What is written in the law?"

How do you read it?"

He said in reply,

"You shall love the Lord, your God,

with all your heart,

with all your being,

with all your strength,

and with all your mind,

and your neighbor as yourself."

He replied to him, "You have answered correctly;

do this and you will live."

But because he wished to justify himself, he said to Jesus,

"And who is my neighbor?"

Jesus replied,

"A man fell victim to robbers

as he went down from Jerusalem to Jericho.

They stripped and beat him and went off leaving him half-dead.

A priest happened to be going down that road,

but when he saw him, he passed by on the opposite side.

Likewise a Levite came to the place, and when he saw him, he passed by on the opposite side.

But a Samaritan traveler who came upon him was moved with compassion at the sight.
He approached the victim,
poured oil and wine over his wounds and bandaged them.
Then he lifted him up on his own animal,
took him to an inn, and cared for him.
The next day he took out two silver coins
and gave them to the innkeeper with the instruction,
'Take care of him.
If you spend more than what I have given you,
I shall repay you on my way back.'
Which of these three, in your opinion,
was neighbor to the robbers' victim?"
He answered, "The one who treated him with mercy."
Jesus said to him, "Go and do likewise."

Our Scripture Reflection

Much to the shock and dismay of the Jewish lawyer, Jesus says that the one who was neighbor to the Jew who was left for dead by the robbers was a bitterly despised Samaritan. But then comes Jesus' Grace-filled jab: "Go and do likewise." I can only imagine the look on his self-righteous face!

Food for your Journey

A Good Samaritan law is a legal principle that prevents a rescuer who has voluntarily helped a victim in distress from being successfully sued for wrongdoing. Its purpose is to keep people from being reluctant to help a stranger in need for fear of legal repercussions should they make some mistake in treatment. By contrast, a duty to rescue law requires people to offer assistance, and holds those who fail to do so liable.

--From Wikipedia entry, "Good Samaritan law."

Does a Christian really need a law to motivate him to show compassion?

A Prayer from the Heart

Dear Jesus, Your heart was filled with love and compassion for those who were in need. You never missed an opportunity to serve and taught us to do the same. Fill my heart with love to that I may reach out to those who are hurting and bring joy to their lives. Amen
