Scripture

Acts 9:1-20

Saul, still breathing murderous threats against the disciples of the Lord, went to the high priest and asked him for letters to the synagogues in Damascus, that, if he should find any men or women who belonged to the Way, he might bring them back to Jerusalem in chains.

On his journey, as he was nearing Damascus, a light from the sky suddenly flashed around him.

He fell to the ground and heard a voice saying to him, "Saul, Saul, why are you persecuting me?"

He said, "Who are you, sir?"

The reply came, "I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting.

Now get up and go into the city and you will be told what you must do."

The men who were traveling with him stood speechless, for they heard the voice but could see no one.

Saul got up from the ground,
but when he opened his eyes he could see nothing;
so they led him by the hand and brought him to Damascus.
For three days he was unable to see, and he neither ate nor drank.
There was a disciple in Damascus named Ananias,
and the Lord said to him in a vision, "Ananias."
He answered, "Here I am, Lord."
The Lord said to him, "Get up and go to the street called Straight and ask at the house of Judas for a man from Tarsus named Saul.
He is there praying, and in a vision he has seen a man named Ananias
come in and lay his hands on him, that he may regain his sight."
But Ananias replied,
"Lord, I have heard from many sources about this man,
what evil things he has done to your holy ones in Jerusalem.
And here he has authority from the chief priests to imprison all who call upon your name."
But the Lord said to him,
"Go, for this man is a chosen instrument of mine to carry my name before Gentiles, kings, and children of Israel, and I will show him what he will have to suffer for my name."
So Ananias went and entered the house;
laying his hands on him, he said,
"Saul, my brother, the Lord has sent me,
Jesus who appeared to you on the way by which you came,
that you may regain your sight and be filled with the Holy Spirit."
Immediately things like scales fell from his eyes and he regained his sight.
He got up and was baptized,
and when he had eaten, he recovered his strength.
He stayed some days with the disciples in Damascus, and he began at once to proclaim Jesus in the synagogues, that he is the Son of God.

Our Scripture Reflection

There is an old saying: "God never closes a door without opening a window at the same time." This saying sums up the life and ministry of the man formerly known as Saul but whose name would change to Paul. That God would call a murderer to become the greatest missionary in the Church's history is a testimony to the power of the Holy Spirit and God's Amazing Grace. The message for us? No matter what your past may have been, God can and will use You for His wonderful purpose.

Food for your Journey

It is true that we cannot be free from sin, but at least let our sins not be always the same.

—St. Teresa of Ávila.

Prayer from the Heart

Dear Jesus, Your love for me is unconditional. You see goodness in me that I cannot see in myself. Help me, Lord, to grow beyond my sinfulness and with the help of Your Grace to do the work that is pleasing to You. Amen.
